Man Stages Brief Sit-Down Strike

FT. WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 22. (UP) truck. John Clayton, 40, staged a brief sit-down strike on a roof-top here late yesterday in defiance of a bench warrent, but it was to no avail. He ended his resistance when the arresting officer called in the aid of nue, the fire department ladder truck.

Clayton was arrested several weeks ago for fishing in a private lake and entenced to spend his weekends in jail for a few weeks. Last weekend was to have been his last, but he didn't show up.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Bledsoe called at Clayton's home, but Clayton evaded him and slipped cut the cellar window. Taking up the trail, Bledsoe located him a short time later on a nearby roof-top. When the fire department persuaded him to come down, he made a third bolt to freedom and was quickly captured.

Expect Debate Over Proposal

AMENDMENT TO LEGION CONSTITUTION

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Aug. 22.-UP)-Heated debate was anticipat ed today over a proposal, reported to be in committee, calling for Ameri can Legion sponsorship of an amendment to the Legion constitution as delegates to the 21st annual conven tion swung into their final busines

The proposed amendment, according to usually reliable informants. would make all appointive offices of the Indiana department of the Le gion permanent. Details on the pro posal were not available at once.

A close race for the office of state commander was expected between George Hish of East Chicago and Ray Townsley of Danville in the annual election. Both camps were con fident of early victory.

Among the resolutions expected to ome before the delegates for adoption was one which would pledge Legion support to a movement to purge Indiana elections of dishonest and corrupt influences and practices. The resolution was sponsored by the Funkhouser Post of Evansville, largest post in the state.

Yesterday the Legion climaxed its convention with the enactment of its nemorial pageant and parade before what was believed to be the largest crowd ever to witness an event in Bloomington.

Thousands of persons lined the streets and watched from windows of buildings as other thousands of Le gionnaires and their families marched a mile and a half to Indiana university's Memorial studium to pay tribute to the unknown soldier. An estimated 12,000 watched the rites at the stadium.

All but the Ninth district commanders were announced after elections as follows:

George Hochbaum of Crown Point, First district; Louis Kern of North Judson, Second district; Roy Vance of Elkhart, Third district; Vincent Borman of Decatur, Fourth district Homer McDaniels of Dunkirk, Fifth district; Carl Wilson of Rockville, Sixth district; Oscar Miles of Loogootee, Seventh district; Clarence U. Gramelspacher of Jasper, Eighth district: Joseph Kaehl of Connersville, 10th district; Ward Starr of Anderson, 11th district, Ray Girder of Indianapolis, 12th district.

The Library Budget, which is also advertised in today's issue, was reduced to the point where the levy was lowered from .07 to .06.

Mr. Boston, superintendent, submits some comparative statistics to show that the Greencastle school corporation is among the few top cities in the state with respect to its financial capacity to support public education. For instance, one of the best indices of the strength of a corporation's school financial structure, is the amount of assessed valuation back of each enrolled pupil.

The table below shows how Greencastle ranks at the top of 15 comparable Indiana cities on this measure of financial capacity. The 1939 school levies are also given:

The committee questioned Allen in an attempt to show that the bund cooperated with other groups described as "fascist."

Allen, a thin man of 60 with grey not to admit the ga hair, testified that he and Arno Risse, assistant west coast leader of the bund, "worked like dogs" to make the convention a success. It was held Aug. 6, 7 and 8, 1938, at the German House, bund headquarters, Los Angeles. The Silver Shirts have been described as a "fascist" organization before the committee.

"It is with great pleasure that I offer the Governor's cup, and with greater pride that I remind our neighboring state chief executives, that Indiana's stalk last year was quite a bit taller than those produced by Iowa and Illinois and Wisconsin," Governor

Townsend said. Last yaer Governor Townsend's trophy was won by John Penney, veteran Bloomingdale, Ind., grower, who produced a stalk that measured 17 feet 1 inch from the first joint above the ground to the top of the tassel. This year the Prairie Farmer-WLS radio station will award a large sweepstakes trophy to the champion of the three states, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana, and since the winning heighth in the other two states will be known before the Indiana State Fair, it is Governor Townsend's hope that he not only will be able to his trophy to the Hoosier champion, but also will be able to say the Indiana King is sweepstake winner over three states.

In addition to the Governor's grophy, the champion will receive $15; second tallest stalk will win $10, third tallest $5 and the nine next tallest, one dollar prizes each Prize winners will be guests of the State Fair management and the WLS Barn Dance officials during the evening performance. Indiana farmers are urged to seek out their tallest stalks.

"Extra! First edition of the Darthmouth Graphic! Free today! All about the Winter Carniva!"

The freshman "heeler", hawking his papers, trotted in and out among the heavily clad men who were choisting the great strett banner across Main Street — the banner that announced the coming of Winter Carnival. It was early February in Dartmouth—a time when, each year, the college is given over to the most spectacular winter sports festival in America.

Through the town the heeler went, handing out his papers—and then across the snow-covered campus, where the boys had congregated in groups, some discussing the delectable "babes" they had invited to Carnival, others busily erecting the huge snow statue of Dartmouth's founder, Eleazar Wheelock, without which no Winter Carnival is complete.

A man just past his middle twenties ambled across the campus, accepted one of the papers (Compliments of the Editor!") and glanced over it as he walked. He stopped to greet a busy-looking student who paraded by with a

"Between the ski races and my pressing business," grinned Mickey. "a date would only get in my hair... Say, Johnny, have you seen that paper? You're supposed to be faculty adviser. What does that punk of an editor think he's doing?"

He pointed to the screaming headlines and luried pictures spattered over the front page of the tabloid paper.

"Take it easy, Mickey," said Professor John Weldon." I think the college will survive it. Good luck in the ski races tomorrow."

Don Reynolds, the student editor who had converted the once dignified college paper into a sensational tabloid, was an cocksure youth bent on showing the world how a newspaper really should be run. The son of "Tiger" Reynolds, a fannous D art mo ut h footbail player who had subsequently become an ace newspaperman, Donhad resolved to build up a huge circulation by hippodroming his paper and the news it carried.

To faculty adviser John Weldon's "The buke – will trailing you this year? You're as big as I am."

"Gee, it's fun to see you! After I got your phone call from Chicago I couldn't sleep a wink. Do you know who was waiting at the station? The Duke – still trailing you!"

ARMSTRONG, AS A FIGHTER IS PROBLEM

By Henry McLemore

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—(UP)— The outcome of the Lou Ambers-Henry Armstrong fight tonight is a subject that doctors, not sportwriters, should discuss.

It is a topic that lends itself more to the austerity of a clinic than to the hubhub of the city room, to the aroma of formaldehyde than to the ripe smell of printers' ink.

For this reason: If both men were in top physical condition, there could be no doubt as to the outcome of the fight. As a fighter, in the true and strict sense, Armstrong is superior in every way. I am forced to give you Arm-Actually it is Jackson. But if it were MeIntyre or Van Buren or Smith or Cohen-he still would be one of the 10 greatest fighters this country ever has known.

The last time Armstrong-or Jackson-fought Ambers, most of you thought the bout was close. But take it from Referee Arthur Donovan, who was nearer Armstrong that night than you or I or anyone but On Protest Game Ambers, Henry won 12 of 15 rounds. Only pride kept him from winning all 15. In an early round Ambers hit him in the mouth with an upper proportions.

Blood poured from it like oil from a gusher. But the spectators never saw a drop. Round after round Armstrong swallowed it, fighting off nausea. Round after round he never töök a backward step, but shuffled always in, punchin'.

Tonight his hands are the problem A few months ago they gave way various clubs met and decided to under the ceaseless pounding and in his fight with Roderick in England he could only hit with his wrists. He says they are well again, nut brown and hard, knuckles level, ready to withstand the thousands of punche. he throws in a fight.

PUTNAMVILLE ALL-STARS BOW 4-1 TO BEDWELL TIRE

Both policemen thought the scene before their eyes "rather strange,"

State Fair Courtesy Program Explained By Exposition Manager

Anticipating

Harry G. Templeton, man H. G. Templeton lined a courtesy service to the state fair visitors, a large portion of whom come from outside Marion county and from other states.

For months, according to Mr. Templeton, the Fair Board has been planning an agricultural and entertainment exposition Septem ber 1-8, inclusive, that will exceed any in past years. For several weeks the Courtesy Committee of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, has been organizing to extend hospitality on a 100-per cent basis during the full week of the event.

The slogans of the Courtesy Committee are, "All roads lead to the Indiana State Fair," and "Service with a smile. Ask Me."

Mobilization of every filling station attendant, drug store employee and others in Marion County into a great army of informa-tion dispensers, each identified by a lapel badge is being effected. Large posters displayed on business establishments will indicate that directions and other information is available there for the asking.

The Courtesy Committee will have thousands of pocket folder maps showing all the main high-ways leading into Indianapolis and all the main city thoroughfares leading to the State Fair Grounds. A new addition this year is a map of the fairgrounds showing all the parking spaces and buildings.

The folders also contain Indianapolis traffic rules and regulations which, if followed, will enable all strangers to reach the fairgrounds rapidly and without mishaps.

The Courtesy Committee also suggests that you ask for a copy of one of these maps and use it as your guide during your stay in Indianapolis. Likewise the committee desires to serve in any other manner possible. This service is free, and you are asked to seek it from a member of the Courtesy Committee.

Nation's Best Grand Gircuit Horses To Race At Indiana State Fair

With $53,800 offered this year an increase of $6,600 over last year, Indiana's State Fair Grand Circuit race program bulges with high class events offering feature stakes and purses.

The harness horse program will open Saturday, Sept. 2, with three races for horses that have been competing on half-mile tracks this summer. Each race will offer

The big leaguers of the harness horse world will swing into action on Monday, Labor Day, when $11,-100 will be offered in four races, the feature of which will be the Horseman Stake for 3-year-old trotters for an estimated $6,000.

The Tuesday card Sept. 5th offors $16,500 with the headliner, The Horseman, 2-year old trotpurse of $10,000. The Thursday Sept. 7th card will offer $6,000 and the Friday Sept. 8th events offer $4,000

Richest of all racing purses for the 1939 season positively will be paid out through the famous Fox Stake, offering an estimated close of $12,000 for 2-year old pacers on Wednesday, Sept. 6. All Fox Stake races have been at the famous Indiana State Fairgrounds track, one of the best mile ovals in the nation. This race brings together each year an inspired group of pacers seeking the major purse offering for the gait. The race this year now looms as one of the greatest contests ever presented for this sporting classic.

There are 33 pacing 2-year olds still eligible for the Fox Stake, and the number undoubtedly compasses the class and speed of the lateral-gaited youngsters. How-ever, when time comes for the final payment—that which will permit starting — only the best, the fleetest, will lineup for the starter's call.

Among those who loom as potential winners are Cousin Hal, an Indiana-bred colt, now owned by a Cleveland stable, and purchased with the express purpose of winning the Fox stake, Countess Hanover, Martin Patch, and a late phenom, Ann Vonian, who has the strong support of many Illinois
